PRINTERS' YEAR BOOK

HANDSOME PUBLICATION

The fourth Yearbook of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, of Washington, which has just been issued, is one of the handsomest publications ever produced in this city.

A review of the year 1902 is embraced in the first article written by James M. Lynch, and entitled, "The International Typographical Union."

A poem on "Light," written by John A. Joyce, with his portrait and facsimile signature, forms a prominent feature, as does a well-written description of the history and growth of the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs.

Another attractive feature is a description of the Typographical Temple in this city, under the caption "Our Home," by E. A. M. Lawson, ex-president. The article also includes a review of the year's work of the local union.

"Some Important Legislation of the Forty-eighth Session of the International Typographical Union" is the title of a contribution by the Washington delegates. "Progress in the Printing Industry" is reviewed by W. S. Rossiter, expert special agent for publishing and printing the Twelfth Census.

ROYAL ARCANUM MEN

HOLD NOTABLE SESSION

One of the most notable gatherings in the local history of the Royal Arcanum assembled last evening in Schmidt's Hall, 515 Ninth Street northwest, on the occasion of the visitation of the Maryland degree team of Baltimore to District Council, No. 1595, Royal Arcanum. Upon the platform sat the officers of the grand council of the two jurisdictions of Maryland and the District of Columbia, headed by E. C. Eichelberg, grand regent of the State of Maryland; Charles Hogenberg, past grand regent of the same jurisdiction, and W. H. Brigham, grand regent of the District of Columbia.

Following the addresses from the orators who accompanied the Baltimoreans, refreshments were served.

Among the visitors from Baltimore were Grand Regent E. C. Eichelberg, Past Grand Regent Charles Hogenberg, W. J. Juvenal, F. H. K. Nichols, Alex. Owens, A. E. Benjamin, Joseph E. Tripp, Stephen D. Glines, Jacob Ebert, G. P. Orum, A. C. Paetel, Charles P. Schlarb, Fred Miller, Harvey Learme, A. Schoolfield, James Cruise, Charles Kunkle, J. O. Ditch and Herman Goldsmith.

CAVEAT FILED.

William A. Meloy, acting in behalf of his wife, Mrs. Emily L. Meloy, yesterday filed a caveat to the will of the late Isabella L. Nourse. When Mrs. Nourse died about a year ago her daughter, Mrs. Brooks, filed a protest against admitting her will to probate. The protest was, however, dismissed for want of prosecution. Mrs. Meloy is one of the heirs at law of Mrs. Nourse. The estate is estimated to be worth about $10,000.

BOYS' BRIGADE MEETS.

At the Ninth Street Christian Church, on Wednesday evening, the First Battalion of the District of Columbia division of the United Boys' Brigade held a religious meeting. Following a brief address of welcome by the Rev. E. B. Bagby, the work and advantages of the organization were discussed by the Rev. William Hart Dexter, of Takoma Park.

ADMINISTRATOR SUES.

BELLBOY'S DIAMONDS LEAD TO HIS ARREST

Dewey Hotel Employee in the Toils.

For some time the patrons of the "Dewey," a family hotel at Fourteenth and L Streets, have been missing small sums of money. The method of the thief was clever, in that he would not take all the money in a purse, but only one bill, usually a five-dollar one, leaving the rest of the money untouched.

Recently Mrs. Jones, mother of the proprietor, missed a small diamond ring, worth probably $35. It was noticed that Walter E. Collins, a bellboy employed at the Dewey, and living at Union and N Streets southwest, appeared at the hotel wearing a diamond of about the same size, though differently set. Accordingly a trap was set last night. A pocketbook containing some marked bills was placed in a room, and Mrs. Jones concealed herself in a clothes press in the room. Collins was then sent into the room on some pretext. Through a perforation in the clothes press Mrs. Jones saw Collins open the purse and take therefrom a two-dollar bill. Orin D. Jones, the proprietor, then communicated with the police and had Collins arrested. The bill could not be found, but Collins had on him $25.

Collins' wife, who is a music teacher, was brought to headquarters from the theater. She was wearing three valuable diamond rings, which she said had been given her by her husband.

SMALLPOX CASE

FOUND IN GEORGETOWN

Smallpox was discovered yesterday in Georgetown, at 2622 Thirty-fifth Street. Ernest Tasker, a colored boy seventeen years old, living at that number with three other men, was sick yesterday morning and applied at Georgetown Hospital for medicine. The physicians found that he had a well-developed case of smallpox. He was promptly isolated, and the Health Department notified.

Tasker was taken to the smallpox hospital late in the afternoon, and the house at 2622 Thirty-fifth Street placed under quarantine. Only one of the three men who lived with Tasker came to the house up to 9 o'clock last night, and the Health Department sent inspectors in search for the other two this morning.

On Monday next a conference will be held in Washington, with a view to the unification of the entire sheet metal workers' craft.
